Professional Summary

Electrical Engineer with 5 years experience at Northrop Grumman delivering robust AESA RADAR simulation, signal processing, mode development, and hardware-software integration for airborne and ground platforms. Proven Scrum team leader skilled in model-based systems engineering (MBSE), requirements analysis, and cross-functional collaboration. Seeking to contribute technical leadership to next-generation defense radar and sensor systems.

Professional Experience

Systems Engineer

Oct 2023 – Present

Northrop Grumman Corporation, Baltimore, MD

- Led mode design and performance analysis for Active Electronically Scanned Array (AESA) radar systems supporting airborne and ground-based missions.
- Developed high-fidelity simulation environments that improved radar performance prediction accuracy and reduced physical testing cycles.
- Managed requirements traceability and design compatibility for internal and customer stakeholders, ensuring alignment with DoD standards.
- Served as technical lead in Scrum teams, coordinating hardware-software integration and verification activities.

Associate Electrical Engineer

Aug 2020 – Sept 2022

Northrop Grumman Corporation, Melbourne, FL

- Acted as Responsible Engineer for three Line Replaceable Units (LRUs) on the E-2D Advanced Hawkeye aircraft.
- Executed hardware/software upgrades, integration testing, and qualification per Quality Assurance and MIL-STD requirements.
- Conducted troubleshooting and sustainment support that improved fleet availability and reduced downtime for operational aircraft.
- Coordinated with cross-functional teams (engineering, production, and logistics) to support production and fielded systems.

Skills

- Tools: C/C++, MATLAB/Simulink, Python, Vim, Git, Docker, Linux, Mac, GitLab CI/CD, Jira
- Engineering: AESA Radar, Digital Signal Processing, Modeling & Simulation, Scrum/Agile, MBSE, Requirements Analysis & Traceability, Hardware-Software Integration & Test
